ogden, June 4 .- While in the city vesterday afternoon President Simon Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway had a strenuous half day in Ogden. He attended a case in court, out an extended interview in regard to his road, met his Ogden representatives, and last, but not east, did a good turn in court for German for whom he acted as in-

Next Monday night, Senator Bamberger will probably petition the council to allow him to operate his line with steam from Lincoln avenue through Healey avenue to a temporary terminal at the corner of Washington avenue and Healey avenues. This would run the line from its present terminus at Lincoln avenue and Thirty-first street to Washington avenue, thereby giving connection with Thirty-first street to Washington avenue, thereby giving connection with the Ogden Rapid Transit company.

"The Salt Lake & Ogden line," said the senator in speaking of the latest phase in regard to the road, "is practically all ready, with the exception of the problem of getting at once into Ogden. It is important that the terminus, though it be a temporary one until electric power is installed, be upon a street through which the Ogden street railway lines run. Healey is a small avenue, and there may be no objection to the use of it until I am able to complete my arrangements for the operation of trains by electric power. electric power.

ALUMNI BANQUET.

The alumni banquet last evening, given in the reading room, was attended by a large crowd, among whom were Gov. John C. Cutler, State Supt. A. C. Nelson, Prof. Sanborn and prominent citizens of the state. Prof. E. G. Peterson acted as toastmaster. In response to the toast of "Utah," Gov. Cutler spoke of educational conditions in the state, and referred especially to the splendid opportunities offered in the Agricultural college, "the luster of which should never be dimmed by polities, religion or personal ambitions," Responses to other toasts were given as follows: "The Future of the College," by L. N. Stohl, president of the board of trustees; "The Faculty," by C. N. Jensen, one of the graduates; "The Graduating Class," by Dr. E. D. Ball, director; "The Alumni," by Miss Minnie Peterson, '65: "The Relation of the Alumni to Their Alma Mater," by Prof. J. W. Sanborn, in which he urged that efforts be made to restore the engineering course to the Agricultural college where the course was begun in this state and where, Prof. Sanborn contended, it naturally belonged.

"The early operation of trains upon the line will be of great advantage to the public in Salt Lake, Ogden and intervening piints. It is also a thing which the management of the road earnestly desires. The privilege which we ask for is only a temporary one, and there is no reason why it should not be granted."

While in the district court yesterday and prior to the hearing of a civil action in which the Salt Lake & Ogden road was interested, Judge Howell had summoned Paul Lehman for arraignment upon the charge of burglary in the third degree. Lehman is a German, unable to speak a word of English. He was found under the bed in the home of a deaf and dumb man on Adams avenue about a month ago, and has been awaiting trial since. When arraigned in the court, it was found that an interpreter would have to be secured before the case could be continued. Senator case could be continued. Manti, Sanpete Co., June 2.—This afternoon the death of Mrs. Mary Adelaide Reid occurred, after suffering sin, 2e early in May, from a paralytic stroke, which came upon her while attending conference at Ephraim.

Deceased was of middle age, a daughter of Frederick W. Cox and Jemima Losee, who were known to all the early settlers of the Temple City. She was born in Pottawattamie Co., Iowa, Aug. 28, 1848, and while quite young was married to the late Bishop William T. Reid, who passed away some years ago. Two sons and two daughters were born to them. They are Prof. C. W. Reid, a resident of Provo, employed in the music department of the Brigham Young university: Prof. Edgar T. Reid, principal of the district schools of this city; and Mrs. Alice R. Bird, wife of Dr. C. W. Bird, also residents of this city; also a little grandson, Siewart, who lost his mother while a baby, and has been cared for by the deceased from Infancy.

CAPE ANN AN ISLAND.

It is cape Ann no longer. Properly speaking it should be Ann Island, although the old designation will probably stick. The dredging and deepening of the Annisquam River and the new cut clear across the neck to Gloucester Harbor is responsible for it.

This new waterway, which has been constructed with no beating of drums or blowing of trumpets, is highly appreciated by the fishermen and coasters, who are thereby enabled to avoid the rocky promotory and the reefs of Thatcher's Island and the Salvages.

The first exemplification of the new channel's advantage was made one day last week, when a new schooner, built at Essex, took advantage of the high tide and came for her spars and outfitting direct to Gloucester by Annisquam and through the river and canal. Otherwise it would have been necessary to tow her around the cape.—Boston Transcript.
